DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to the amendment filed on 5/15/2007. Claims 5 and 6 are pending. Applicant has cancelled claims 1-4. Claims 5-6 are examined.

RESPONSE TO ARGUMENTS

1. Applicant's arguments filed on 5/15/2007 have been fully considered.
2. In response to Applicant's arguments regarding Examiner's rejection of claims 5 and 6, Examiner's rejects claims 5 and 6 under 35 USC 103.
3. Applicant's amendment to include new claims 5 and 6 require Examiner to perform a new search and therefore render applicant's arguments moot.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claim language does not make sense as to what is meant by original payments are applies as multiple payment streams.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over M. Anthony Carr's article, "Paying off mortgage vs. investing money," (Washington Times, December 14, 2001) in view of official notice.

Regarding claim 5:

(added) A method to accelerate repayment of incurred debt, comprising;
Official notice is taken that (a) refinancing a high interest loan with another of lower interest, resulting in a lower payment.

Carr teaches (b) continuing to pay the original payment amount, generating a surplus; that is invested in an investment account. (see page 1).

(d) periodically applying any gains or interest accrued from the investment account to the amount owed in the loan. (see page 1).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Carr with official notice. Motivation to modify exists because it is economically beneficial to refinance loan that results in a lower payment.

Regarding claim 6:

Carr further teaches that the method of claim 5, whereas the original payments are applied as multiple payment streams. (see page 1).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
